

Plot Hooks

Brodeur - James Owen Crider

- Terrible loan on the new boat.
- Collateral on the loan is his family's vineyard and freedom.

Wayne - Philip Carstairs.

- A bastard child out there somewhere.
Mother is Beverly Aris.
- Ten Carstairs gave a small wooden dolphin. Philip looks up to her as perfect, but she's a bit of a wild child.
- Peggy, mother, skilled seamstress.
- Jeremiah, father, farmer. Runs as a large family coop.
- Merchant rival, James Weldon.

Chad - Lee

- (Chandler Stone)
- Spying for an unknown individual
- Was masked, but his freedom was bought through a pit fight engineered by rivalries between houses by an unknown party
- Parents didn't understand his intelligence or its significance
- Lee's parents run the winery.
- Lee's parents are included in Brodeur's contract.

Eric

- Motumar has brought in a wine expert from Defiance. <sup>St. Louis wants less alcoholic, higher quality wine.</sup>
- Pendant from your clan. It's significant, but you don't why. <sup>Pops may have clues to its value.</sup>
- Korsh is still alive and likely quite incensed.
- Motumar unintentionally gave away his tribe's position.
- Pops is seen as a genuine father figure.